IDENTITY
Born to be different. A range of NOLO and RTD products created for those seeking the perfect balance between social connection, flexibility and inclusivity, reducing or removing alcohol without compromising on taste. Boldness is the brand's defining trait. Angelow breaks away from the traditional wine category through innovative winemaking and a distinctive visual identity that stands out instantly, both on and off the shelf. Its packaging challenges convention with compact formats and eye-catching cans, while the logo and naming—designed as peel-off and repositionable stickers—become signature brand elements that speak a contemporary visual language.
Angelow fits naturally into today's evolving social occasions, from after-work drinks and parties to festivals, house gatherings and urban events.

WINEMAKING
An advanced wine dealcoholisation system designed to preserve the wine's aromatic complexity and original varietal profile through selective membrane technology and a room-temperature process that eliminates thermal stress.
The technology is based on a fully automated two-stage process:
- stage 1: a selective membrane separates the dealcoholised wine from a diluted hydroalcoholic solution.
- stage 2: vacuum distillation concentrates the extracted alcohol to a purity of over 90%, creating a high-value commercial by-product.
The result is a dealcoholised wine that retains the key distinctive characteristics and sensory properties of the original wine.

TASTING
Straw yellow with bright highlights and an appealing aromatic profile, it is fragrant, revealing aromas of yellow-fleshed fruit complemented by delicate floral notes. On the palate, it is pleasant, fresh and harmonious, leading to a surprisingly expressive finish.
Recommended serving temperature: 6–10°C.
